

The Holt County Sentinel.

VOLUME XVI.

OREGON, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1880.

NUMBER 15.

ONE PRICE.

We Greet You

WELTY BROS. & Co., Mound City, Mo., would again call your attention to the fact that they are fully equipped for the Fall Campaign. They can, will, and are fully determined to make a lively race against ANY and ALL competitors. Their stock of General Merchandise is complete in every particular. They will give SPECIAL BARGAINS in Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps, Gloves and Furling Goods. Also their house is full of

DRY GOODS

Notions, Flannels, Cotton Flannels, Yarns, Cassimeres, Shawls, Ladies' and Gents' Underwear, Alpaca, Cashmeres, and Dress Suitings, all kinds. These goods they will sell as cheap as any firm in Holt county. Their stock of Groceries, both Staple and Fancy, Queensware, Glassware, Table and Pocket Cutlery, Trunks and Valises, is unequalled in Mound City, and they positively assert that it will pay every farmer in their locality to examine their goods and prices when purchasing Winter supplies. Remember the Lowest fare carries the most passengers.

WELTY BROS. & CO.,
MOUND CITY, MO.

LOW PRICES.

THE BOOM

HAS STRUCK MOUND CITY!

And everything is moving along at a 2-12 1-2 rate, but

SMITH & NORMAN

Still keep the lead with a full stock of goods consisting of

DRESS GOODS, NOTIONS, BOOTS AND SHOES,

PRINTS, MUSLINS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, ETC.

LADIES FINE SHOES A SPECIALTY

OUR STOCK OF

CLOTHING AND PIECE GOODS

Have been selected especially for the trade.

We have a large and complete stock of Hats, Caps, Groceries, Queensware, etc. We also keep the "Singer" and "New Home" Sewing Machines. If you want a machine it will pay you to come 25 miles to see us and learn prices.

The Road is here, Business is good, the trade of the town is increasing, but we want more. Come and see us, no matter what the distance, it will pay you.

SMITH & NORMAN, MOUND CITY.

School Books

KING & PROUD'S

Books at Introductory prices for SIXTY Days, commencing Sept. 15th.

Books not in stock we will order for you at lowest rates. Call at our store where you will find a fine assortment of goods in the Druggist's Line.

KING & PROUD,
OREGON, MO.

These Famous Instruments are now on hand. 89,000. The factory having been recently re-equipped, the instruments are in the best of tone. Most Tasteful in Form, and

Out Lasts all Others. A great variety of styles both for public and private use. Catalogues sent free to any address on application.

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST in the world. Mr. Bull's Cough Syrup costs you only 25 cents, and if it does not cure your Cough you can get your money back.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CIRCUIT JUDGE. We are authorized to announce Daniel Cook as an independent candidate for the office of Circuit Judge for the 2nd Judicial Circuit.

We have just opened our new stock of Clothing; you should call and see it. Herschberger & Anderson.

We are bringing up pictures every day about the chamber walls of our house that we shall have to look at when we sit in the shadows.

SMALL EXPENSES.

Republican Meetings.

The nominees of the Republican party for the various offices in Holt county will meet their fellow-citizens during next week at the following times and places:

Nickell's Grove, Monday night, Sept. 27th, Richville, Tuesday night, Sept. 28th, New Point, Wednesday night, Sept. 29th, Triumph school house, Thursday night, Sept. 30th, Harmony school house, Friday night, Oct. 1st, Rising Sun school house, Saturday night, Oct. 2nd.

Appointments for the week following the above will be published in the next issue of the SENTINEL.

Local Jottings.

—Rev. Mr. McKipley will preach at Highland next Sabbath forenoon and at Forbes at night.

—Annie, youngest daughter of E. Paynter, of New Point, died on the 20th from diphtheria.

—J. T. Howell and J. B. Curry will return to Oregon from the far west about the first of October.

—Services at the Christian church next Sunday morning and evening by Elder W. T. Maupin.

—Mrs. Carr of Memphis, Tennessee, an early settler of Holt county, is visiting relatives and friends at Forest City and Oregon.

—The proceedings of the Presbyterian Mission Society with the address of Mrs. A. N. McKinlay, will appear in our next issue.

—A good new parlor organ for seventy-five dollars and a tip-top one for a hundred dollars can be had by applying to the editor of this paper.

—Mrs. Riggle, mother-in-law of N. F. Murray, died at his residence on Monday night, after a long and painful illness.

—Mr. Sam O'Fallon of this city was granted license to practice law by Judge H. S. Kelley, at the August term of the Holt circuit court.

—Jennie, the sweet bright little son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Crowell, died of diphtheria on last Sabbath evening, aged 2 years 11 1/2 months. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Miller of Oregon, on Monday.

—The Greenbackers of Holt county will hold a mass convention at Mound City on Thursday, September 30th, for the purpose of nominating a full county ticket or taking such other action as may be considered wise and expedient.

—It should be borne in mind that the Holt county Sunday School convention will be held in Oregon on Tuesday, October 5th. We presume the program will be furnished us for next issue.

—Mr. Miller will preach at New Point next Saturday morning and evening, and also on Sabbath morning and the Lord's Supper will be administered in connection with the service on Sabbath morning.

—Call on T. C. Dungan if you wish to borrow from one hundred to one thousand dollars for a term of years. It is home money and the borrower can have it as long as the interest is paid when it falls due. Only the usual rate of interest and no big commissions.

—The speech of the Hon. Nicholas Ford at the Court House in this city last Friday night was a calm and dispassionate statement of the political issues of the day, which was listened to with interest from beginning to end. It was well received and undoubtedly made him friends.

—Daniel Zook is annoyed by the report which he learns is being circulated to the effect that he is making the race for circuit judge in the interest of Judge Kelley and for the purpose of keeping any one else off the track; and he asks us to contradict the report for him. Of course, there is no truth in the charge, and we think it is not worth denials. Any candidate who undertakes to deny every campaign cannot which may be started against him will find his whole time occupied in that business. Candidates and editors constitute a class whom many persons consider it no sin to invent lies against.

—About October 16 we will publish a Detailed Statement of the Receipts and Expenditures of Holt county during the year ending May 1st 1880. This is the publication the county court refused to make, although the law specifically requires it. The SENTINEL is determined that the people shall see it, notwithstanding the efforts of the court to keep it from them. The publication will entail a heavy expense on us, for which we ought to be paid as the law provides; but, whether paid for it or not, the Statement will be laid before our readers.

—The Democracy of Holt county are in a peck of trouble over their inability to get up a fusion with the Greenbackers on the local ticket, and are, figuratively, crawling on their abdomens in subject of the calico infant. As a conciliatory movement they nominated N. F. Murray for county judge; but that gentleman informed us, after the adjournment of the convention which nominated him, that he positively would not accept the nomination. He added, however, that he might announce himself as an independent candidate for the office, but was, as yet, undecided. It is well known that Mr. Murray is a staunch Republican on all subjects but that of finance. The Democracy also failed to nominate any candidate for either Sheriff or County Attorney, in the hope that the Greenbackers would nominate candidates for those offices, thus opening a way for a union of the two parties by each supporting the incomplete ticket of the other. The whole movement is intended by the Democrats, primarily, to provoke a feud between Republicans and Greenbackers, which will prevent the Republicans from voting for Ford for congress. It is purely in the interest of Craig and the Greenbackers are green indeed if they are caught by it.

—Garfield and Arthur Club at the Court House this (Friday) evening. Let every Republican be present.

—Married: at the residence of the bride's parents, September 16th, 1880, by Stephen Blanchard, James O. Mock and Mrs. Louanna Overman.

—Died of Diphtheria, Sept 21st, Hattie, little daughter of Abram Fletcher of Mill creek. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Miller on Wednesday.

—On account of the death of Simon Wright of Maryville, Mo., his entire herd will be sold Wednesday, October 13th, 1880. Dr. Carver and L. Miller will join in the sale with 42 head of cattle. Catalogues mailed on application. W. M. WRIGHT, Administrator.

—Married at the bride's father's, Sept 21st by Rev. George Miller, S. N. Korner of Falls City, Neb., and Miss Hattie C. Kellogg, daughter of A. M. Kellogg of Oregon. The wedding was a very quiet one, only a few intimate friends of the family being present. A number of very elegant presents were received, but the late hour at which we receive a list of them prevent us publishing it. The SENTINEL but echoes the sentiments of every one in this city in wishing the fair young bride a happy future. Thanks for wedding cake. The bridal couple took the midnight train for Kansas City and Colorado.

—The people of the Upper Bottom in West Lewis township, in Ed. Randolph's neighborhood, are dissatisfied because their section has always been overlooked by both political parties in the nomination of county officers, and they are now talking of bringing out an independent candidate for county judge. We learn that Henry Winton is the man selected by them. It is doubtful, however, that they have just cause of complaint, but we cannot see that the plan they propose will remedy the matter, as, of course, they could not expect to elect their candidate. Better wait a couple of years, we think, and then let both conventions know that the people up there have blood in their eyes unless recognized.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place to John D. Campbell of Lock Port. It is said that a proposition has been made to Parrish, which he has accepted, that if he will take the stump for Craig and devote the remainder of the campaign to speaking in his interest, then if Craig is elected, and if Hancock also be elected, Parrish is to have Craig's influence in securing the position of United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri. It seems to us that, with all these "ifs" in the case, Parrish's prospects for office hang on a rather slender thread.

—We learn that it is now the understanding in Democratic circles that Tom Parrish is not to run for the State Senate, but is to give place